Explore Offsite Conference 2026 is an industry event bringing together leaders, innovators, policymakers and practitioners from across the offsite manufacturing, technology and modern methods of construction (MMC) sectors. Taking place at the National Conference Centre, Birmingham on 15 September 2026, the conference will provide a focused platform to explore the latest innovations, emerging trends and strategic opportunities shaping the future of the offsite manufacturing and construction sector.

The conference programme will examine how offsite manufacturing and MMC are transforming the built environment through advances in design, digital technology and Design for Manufacture and Assembly (DfMA). Sessions will explore how digital workflows, platform design, standardisation and integrated delivery models are enabling greater productivity, quality and certainty across projects.

A key focus will be on manufacturing capacity, investment and the ongoing research and development of new technologies, materials and processes that are driving the next phase of sector growth. Delegates will gain insight into how the industry is scaling production, attracting investment and building resilient supply chains to meet increasing demand.

The event will also highlight relevant UK government initiatives and support programmes designed to accelerate the adoption of offsite and MMC techniques. Particular attention will be given to key vertical market opportunities - including defence, prisons, education and healthcare - where government-led programmes are advancing the use of standardised, platform-based approaches and modern construction solutions.

Through a dynamic mix of keynote addresses, case study presentations from delivery teams, expert panel debates and cross-sector discussions, Explore Offsite will encourage knowledge sharing and collaboration between clients, manufacturers, designers, contractors and policymakers. The conference programme will showcase recent winners of the Offsite Awards, profiling best-in-class projects and technologies across multiple sectors and construction systems. Core themes running throughout the event will include improving productivity, delivering sustainable development goals and addressing skills shortages - with a clear focus on how offsite manufacturing can provide practical, scalable solutions to these industry-wide challenges.

The conference will finish with the 2026 Offsite Awards, hosted on the evening of 15 September, celebrating excellence, innovation and achievement across the offsite and MMC sector.
